

Securitas Canada Announces Its Security Guards of the Year for 2014

| 16 December 2014

Securitas Canada is pleased to announce that Security Guard Jaspreet Rajpoot from Western Canada has won the 2014 Security Guard of the Year award for Heroism in Canada. While on duty Security Guard Rajpoot observed a sight impaired woman inadvertently crossing the road directly towards two moving trains. Security Guard Rajpoot immediately jumped into action running towards the woman, and was able to maneuver her away from danger. He stopped what could have been a major accident and his quick actions were instrumental in saving her life.

Jaspreet was honored as Security Guard of the year for Heroism, an award that recognizes the courage, self-sacrifice and professionalism of a guard to help protect people or property. He is a shining example of what Securitas represents – integrity, vigilance and willingness to help in a time of need.

Security Guard Stephen Craig of Atlantic Canada, has been named Security Guard of the year for Performance during 2014.

While on duty at a large client site Security Guard Craig was notified of smoke in one of the tenant spaces. He investigated and took note that it was not registering on either the fire panel or the smoke detectors so immediately called the fire department who responded with a four fire engine call. After a few hours of investigation fire fighters were able to find the fault with a pot light experiencing an electrical issue. The Fire Chief expressed his praise regarding Security Guard Craig and his helpfulness and support by ensuring that fire fighters had all maps, escorts, keys, and specialized equipment and controls needed on this site.

Stephen Craig received the Security Guard of the Year for Performance award for providing excellent service and outstanding job performance. Security Guard Craig exemplifies the core values of Securitas and has consistently provided excellent service and outstanding performance.

Our company is strengthened by their service and dedication!